THIS IS WOFFORD

Wofford College, established in 1854, is an independent liberal arts college located in Spartanburg, S.C. It offers bachelor's degrees in 26 major fields of study, and is well known for its programs leading to graduate and professional studies. Affiliated with the United Methodist Church, the college is committed to quintessential undergraduate education within the context of values-based inquiry.

Wofford College consistently finds itself as a benchmark for what higher education should be now and in the future, and how students can find an exciting and fulfilling undergraduate experience that also is a good value both in financial investment and in value-added by that educational experience.

The college has scored high on the National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE), which measures the level of academic challenge, active and collaborative learning, student-faculty interaction, enriching educational experiences, and a supportive campus environment.

Wofford can be found in numerous college guides that provide perspectives from a variety of sources. Among those are U.S. News & World Report's "America's Best Colleges," The Princeton Review's "Best 376 Colleges," The Fiske Guide to Colleges, The (Yale) Insider's Guide, and Peterson's Colleges for Top Students.

Forbes.com ranked Wofford as one of "America's Best Colleges" in 2011, the highest rated institution in South Carolina. In its November 2010 issue, Kiplinger's Personal Finance magazine ranked Wofford among the nation's best private college values, at number 31.

Wofford consistently lands on "best value" lists in various other national college guides and publications. In U.S. News & World Report's 2010 "America's Best Colleges," Wofford was included in "Great Schools, Great Prices," a listing of 31 liberal arts colleges.

Wofford ranks ninth in the country in the percentage of undergraduates receiving credit for studying abroad, according to Open Doors 2010, a report published by the Institute of International Education (IIE).

The Village, Wofford's apartment-style housing for its senior students, has earned a number of national recognitions. Phase V of The Village will open in the fall of 2011 with loft-style apartments along with a grand galleria, deli restaurant and market. It will be anchored by the Center for Professional Excellence.

Wofford was named to the President's Higher Education Community Service for 2010, presented by the Corporation for National and Community Service, an independent federal agency tasked with fostering an ethic of volunteerism and service in America. Wofford also was included in the 2009 Guide to Service-Learning Colleges & Universities, highlighting the college's programs to encourage student engagement.

Wofford's entire 175-acre campus is a national arboretum, which was named the Roger Milliken Arboretum at Wofford College in honor of the late longtime trustee and benefactor. More than 5,000 trees have been planted on the Wofford campus since 1992.

Wofford offers distinctive learning opportunities that set it apart from other liberal arts colleges. They provide students with meaningful study-abroad experiences, exciting and socially useful service opportunities, career-related and experiential learning possibilities, interaction with great academicians from across the world, and exposure to renowned authors, artists, and business and professional leaders. Such "focal point" programs include, but are not limited to:

The Interim, a January term that encourages students and faculty to explore new interests both on and off campus.

The Bonner Scholar Program, a service-learning scholarship program that places deserving students in volunteer positions throughout the community.

The Success Initiative, a leadership and scholarship program that offers practical, project-based experience.

The Vocational Discernment and Pre-Ministerial Program, a counseling and mentoring approach to helping students make personal decisions regarding further study and careers in the ministry.

Environmental Studies provides a creative and supportive learning environment that helps students pursue their goals in the rigorous and challenging program. It operates both on Wofford's campus and at the new Glendale Shoals Environmental Studies Center at Glendale, S.C. The property where the center is located borders 19 acres of protected green space along the Lawson's Fork Creek.

Neuroscience, a program in which students examine the nervous system and its regulation of behavior through an experimental approach, offered jointly by the Departments of Psychology and Biology.

Computational Science, a fast-growing interdisciplinary field that is at the intersection of the sciences, computer science and mathematics, involves learning to store, retrieve, process and visualize massive amounts of information in web-accessed databases.

Learning Communities, an interdisciplinary approach to learning that links courses in two or more departments through a common theme.

The Novel Experience, a first-year reading and writing program that offers an introduction to the academic rigors of Wofford while familiarizing students with the Spartanburg community.

The Creative Writing Concentration, a program led by outstanding published faculty writers that provides additional opportunities for students to hone their creative writing skills, earn coveted prizes and become published writers themselves.

Presidential International Scholar, an opportunity for an outstanding, intellectually gifted student to visit other parts of the world researching specific academic areas of interest.

The Community of Scholars. Student fellows in this summer program work under the supervision of faculty mentors engaged in parallel or related research. The projects encompass all disciplines, including science, the humanities, the social sciences and the fine arts.

Presidential Seminar, a weekly seminar hosted by Wofford President Benjamin Dunlap for outstanding seniors, in which seminar members explore interdisciplinary subjects of current significance.

Liberty Fellowship, a two-year leadership experience hosted by the college and a partnership of South Carolina businessman Hayne Hipp, of Greenville, the Aspen Institute and Wofford, for young citizens of South Carolina with exemplary promise for societal achievement.

THE CAROLINA PANTHERS

The Carolina Panthers have held training camp at Wofford since their inaugural season in 1995. The camp provides Wofford tremendous national exposure and visibility. Media members that visit Wofford during the five-week camp include ESPN, Fox Sports Net, USA Today and Sports Illustrated. Local print and television media from markets including Columbia, Charlotte, Raleigh/Durham/Chapel Hill, Asheville and Greensboro/Winston-Salem are on campus on a daily basis.

According to SI.com's Tim Layden, "as I like to think of it: Training Camp Heaven. Wofford is 70 miles west of Charlotte on I-85, and presents all the reasons why there is something special about taking the team on the road for camp. Three pristine, Bermuda-grass fields with a stand of tall pines on two sides and a steep hillside -- where fans sit and watch -- on another. Fans, many of them young boys and girls, lined up along the fence, getting autographs after practice. It's a scene straight out of football's past."

Corey Helle

Head Coach

Entering his tenth season at the helm of the Terrier volleyball program is head coach Corey Helle. Under his guidance, the Wofford program has continued to make progress on the court, in the classroom and beyond.

With a 108-178 career record, Helle is currently the second winningest coach in program history, and is the winningest coach since the school's transition to Division I in 1995.

Last fall, Helle earned his 100 career win as the Terriers defeated Bethune-Cookman on September 4, 2010. He went on to lead the squad to 13-21 record. Freshman Amanda Ligouri was named to the SoCon All-Freshman team. Senior Stacy Byrd broke the school record for points in a career with 1,380.

In 2009, Helle led the Wofford Terriers to an 18-15 overall record, the most wins during his tenure as head coach and the most wins for the program since its transition to Division I. Seniors Joanna Sudduth, Shanna Hughes and Sarah Palmer each finished their careers as members of the 1,000 career digs club. In addition, Hughes finished her career with 1,046 kills, becoming only the fourth player in school history to reach the 1,000 career mark in both digs and kills.

In 2008, then-junior Joanna Sudduth was named the Southern Conference Player of the Week for the week of September 12, marking the first time in school history a Terrier earned the accolade. Helle also led the Terriers to a win at the USC-Upstate Volleyball Classic, and placed Sudduth and Stacey Byrd on the all-tournament team. 2008 also marked the first win for the Terriers over Davidson since 2004 and the first victory over Georgia Southern since 2001.

In 2007, five of Helle's players earned all-tournament honors at the various in-season events in which the Terriers competed. Then-sophomore Joanna Sudduth garnered a spot on all three tournament squads in addition to collecting MVP accolades at the season-opening Fatz Café Volleyball Classic, hosted by USC Upstate, which Wofford won. The Terriers also captured the tournament crown at the SCSU SpikeFest in Orangeburg, S.C.

In 2006, Helle earned his 50th career victory with a 3-0 sweep over The Citadel in Charleston, S.C., Sept. 30, 2006.

In 2005, he guided the program to its first-ever sweep over Furman and the team's first-ever victory in the Southern Conference Tournament, with an opening round triumph against Elon. Freshman Brittany Thompson garnered all-tournament honors at the Jasper Classic, while remaining in the hunt for the league's top freshman honor all season.

Also that season, Helle had two student-athletes, Katie Sobczyk and Angela Berry, inducted into Phi Beta Kappa. Sobczyk graduated with the highest grade point average of any student-athlete on Wofford's campus earning the Hoole Award. Finally, every freshman mentored at local elementary schools in an effort to give back to Spartanburg.

Under Helle's leadership, the Wofford volleyball record book has been virtually rewritten. Coach Helle's first four senior classes own the majority of the all-time individual and team school records. The 2006 class, led by setter Rhea DeJesus, have their names throughout the lists. The 2005 senior class boasts Andrea Duke, the Terriers' all-time leader in kills and service aces, and is the only player to be named to the All-Southern Conference team. The headliner for 2004 was Lindsay Lyman, Wofford's first libero. Her name can be found in several of the dig records. Lyman was also inducted into Phi Beta Kappa. Helle's first senior class, in 2003, is the most decorated. That class, led by Molly Bushong and Currie Gossett, own several individual and team marks.

Since being named head coach, he has sent 10 of his 13 seniors abroad to study. Helle encourages his players to study and experience life in a foreign land, from Europe to South Africa.

Prior to being named the program's fifth head coach since its inception in 1980, he served as an associate head coach (2001) and two-year assistant coach (1999-2000) under Dr. Joe Bowman.

Before arriving in Spartanburg, he served as an assistant coach at Furman (1997-98) and South Carolina (1995-96). Both of those programs registered 20-win campaigns while he was a member of the staff.

With the Gamecocks his primary duties were coaching the setters and teaching technical defense. The 1996 squad posted a 22-8 overall record, including an 11-5 mark in the Southeastern Conference.

In addition to his success at the collegiate level, Helle has maintained a similar track in Junior Olympic volleyball, where he has been a head coach since 1991. While in college at Nebraska, the 1994 Lincoln Sports Courts Volleyball Club team finished second nationally and had three players named All-America. In 1995, while an assistant at South Carolina, Helle took the first Juniors team from South Carolina to the Junior Olympic National Championship in San Francisco.

Helle has been instrumental in the development of Juniors programs in South Carolina – having coached over 100 athletes who have received college scholarships. He co-founded Club South Juniors, which had over 300 players participate this past year.

While at Wofford, Helle has also built a successful camp program. This summer over 400 campers came for the Corey Helle Volleyball Camps. In addition to his camp in Spartanburg, Helle travels each summer to high schools for an on-site program. Over the course of each year he works with almost 1,000 athletes.

A native of Princeton, Ill., Helle graduated from Nebraska in 1994 with a bachelor's degree in history. Helle has participated in triathlons the past two summers and enjoys playing volleyball, basketball and golf.

He met his wife, the former Kim Ring, when he moved to Spartanburg and they were married in June 2002. The couple welcomed their first children, a set of twins, Lucas James and Maggie Grace, June 4, 2007. Their third child, daughter Abbey Rae, joined the family on October 3, 2008. At the end of the last academic year, there were approximately 2,000 four-year colleges in the United States. Only 262 of them have the right to induct their graduates into Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's most prestigious liberal arts honor society. There are five independent Phi Beta Kappa colleges and universities in the Carolinas: Wofford, Davidson, Duke, Furman and Wake Forest.

Phi Beta Kappa has an interesting history. Founded at the College of William and Mary in December 1776, Phi Beta Kappa was the first of the Greek letter fraternities and adopted such rituals as the badge, the secret oath, and the special handclasp from the various secret societies of the day.

Phi Beta Kappa, however, was also devoted to the principles of "friendship, morality, and literature (or learning)," and these characteristics gradually attained the greatest emphasis. John Quincy Adams, Edward Everett and Joseph Story, members of the Harvard chapter, are credited with making the fraternity a public literary and honor society for undergraduates in the 1830's. Women were first admitted to Phi Beta Kappa in 1875 at the University of Vermont.

Only two chapters of Phi Beta Kappa existed in the Southeast before 1900, but gradually the historic state universities and the most outstanding private colleges began to secure chapters. The process of earning a charter often takes many years and standards are very high. Final approval comes by vote of all the chapters at the triennial meetings of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa. At the August 1994 triennial meeting in San Francisco, 53 colleges and universities sought chapters, but only seven institutions even qualified for a vote.

Wofford received its chapter at the 1940 triennial meeting, bringing to fruition more than ten years of work by three Phi Beta Kappa members who were then serving on the faculty: President Henry Nelson Snyder, Dr. David Duncan Wallace, class of 1894, and Dr. John West Harris '16, a brash and brilliant young English professor not afraid to campaign vigorously in the conviction that his alma mater deserved membership. (Dr. Harris later founded the National Beta Club, which still has its headquarters in Spartanburg).

With about 350,000 members across the country, Phi Beta Kappa today sponsors numerous programs to encourage scholarship and learning, including the Phi Beta Kappa Book Awards and the visiting scholar, academic fellowship and leadership programs.

For these reasons, Phi Beta Kappa Day at Wofford has institutional significance, as well as being especially memorable for the new members, each of whom will receive the traditional Phi Beta Kappa watch key or pin.

STUDY ABROAD PROGRAM

Over the past 10 years, Wofford College has consistently been ranked in the top 10 among the nation's top colleges and universities in Open Doors national surveys of undergraduates receiving credit for studying abroad. Keeping with this tradition, Wofford currently ranks fourth in the country in the percentage student participation in studies abroad.

The study abroad program is a major component of Wofford's commitment to providing its students with connections with the world. Opportunities range from travel Interim projects to a full year at a university abroad. Destinations in the spring 2009 semester included Argentina, Australia, Chile, China, Denmark, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, England, Fiji, France, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Madagascar, Morocco, The Netherlands, Russia, Scotland, South Africa, Spain, and Washington D.C.

Students may study on any continent and at 137 sites in 59 countries. They may participate in work and volunteer projects, internships, and directed research. Wofford truly enables students to make the world their university.

Students must meet the eligibility requirements for each program. While a complete application includes a transcript, letters of recommendation from at least two professors and a well-written, thoughtful academic statement of purpose, the GPA requirement for each program is an important component in the consideration of the candidate for study abroad. Each program has a variety of eligibility requirements which could include a certain class standing, status as a student in good academic and social standing with the College, as well as specific course pre-requisites and language proficiency. The Office of International Programs will work closely with each student to help select an appropriate program for the student's needs, however, it is the student's responsibility to make certain that the eligibility requirements are met before applying.

"While studying abroad in foreign residence, our students may pursue interests in art, architecture, economics, history and political science. At the same time, they can further their desire to become proficient in a foreign language."

*-Dr. Ana Maria Wiseman,
Dean of International Programs*

The curriculum offered to Wofford students while in foreign residence is as varied as the curriculum to which they have access at Wofford. Students may follow courses of study in art, architecture, economics, history, and science. At the same time, they may further their major in a chosen foreign language. Credit received for courses taken abroad transfers directly and completely to Wofford. With the appropriate permission, credit may be applied to major discipline requirements as well as to general education requirements. Grades earned overseas are computed into the grade point average.

Fees for the programs of study abroad vary depending on the choice of country and program type, but in most cases the basic costs are comparable to those of attending Wofford. Financial aid assistance may be applied to foreign study fees. Specific information on programs and costs can be found under each program rubric. Many programs also offer financial aid to qualified students.

"The office of international programs would like to thank Coach Helle for his continued support and encouragement of his volleyball players as they make important decisions regarding their choice of study abroad programs. These students have a proactive and supportive peer group which effectively serves as a set of mentors and leaders. Coach Helle models the best approach to integrating academic and athletic success for his students."

*-Dr. Ana Maria Wiseman,
Dean of International Programs*

"We really support the players being involved and the study abroad program as a whole. It has given our program tremendous exposure. Everyone who has participated comes back with a smile on their face after a wonderful experience."

THE RICHARDSON BUILDING

The home of the Wofford College Athletic Department is the Richardson Physical Activities Building. The facility includes offices for the administration, football, basketball and other sports on the second floor. Also included on the second floor is an aerobic dance room and weight room with machine and free weights along with a variety of cardio machines. Locker rooms for football, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's soccer and a training room are located on the first floor.

Wofford alumnus and Carolina Panthers owner Jerry Richardson made a $1 million donation in 2008 that was used for enhancing the Richardson Building. Numerous improvements were made in the facility to ensure that it is one of the most advanced athletic facilities in the nation.

Enhancements to the Richardson Building include new paint and carpet in the entire facility. The coaching and administration suites have been reconfigured to provide better reception areas. Football and men's basketball offices are outfitted with a new video system, including computers, editing software and large-screen monitors. This new system is similar to those being used by the NFL and NBA.

Inside the Harley Room, a new audio/video system was installed to handle the variety of events held in the room. New displays for academic honors, Southern Conference honors and the Hall of Fame are a part of the project. Additional murals and photos compliment the building and give it a fresh look.

In addition, the fitness facilities have been upgraded as well. Nearly $100,000 worth of new equipment was added to supplement the current selection of treadmills and elliptical machines. The cardio area features six flat panel televisions for viewing while working out. The fitness area is used by the entire student body at Wofford.

THE JOE E. TAYLOR CENTER

Wofford alumnus and South Carolina Secretary of Commerce Joe Taylor donated $1 million for the renovation of the Curry Building into the Joe E. Taylor Athletic Center. The Taylor Center features a 7,000 square foot weight room and offices for athletic department staff. The building, located next to Gibbs Stadium, was completed in June of 2009.

The weight room facility is equipped with a total of 24 racks with built-in pull-up bars and nearly 25,000 pounds of plates, dumbbells and olympic weights. The 24 racks are divided, with twelve used with platforms and twelve used with benches. Additional equipment includes four pulldown machines, four low row machines, five power runners, six glute/ham machines, two decline ab machines, a leg press and exercise bike. Also included is a large area of Mondo track flooring, which is used with the step-up boxes, plyo boxes and hurdle sets in speed development.

The Taylor Center also provides offices for administration and numerous sports, including men's and women's soccer, baseball, men's and women's golf, volleyball, men's and women's tennis and cross country and track and field. A conference room and several work areas give the coaching staff much needed space.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Wofford College Strength and Conditioning Department embraces the mission of both the college and athletic department. The mission of our program is to foster a positive, safe, challenging, and training environment. Our approach allows coaches, athletic trainers, and athletes to work together towards developing an athlete's full physical and mental potential.

A focal point of our training programs will be to not spend too much time training one specific aspect of development, but to train with balance. We will be hitting all areas, not neglecting another to prevent injury. Our coaches will inspire the athletes to be consistent, disciplined, and to put forth a great effort every day; never allowing their feelings to affect their performance.

THE PHILOSOPHY

The Strength and Conditioning Program consists of a year-round training philosophy designed to improve all aspects of physical and mental development of each athlete. The training cycles consist of different phases, all of which follow sound fundamental training principle and periodization ranging from low to high intensity and high to low volume. These are all encompassing sport specific macrocycles, mesocycles, and microcycles, which will allow each athlete the best opportunity for reaching maximum genetic potential.

GOAL

The goal is to improve the strength, speed, agility, balance, and coordination of the athletes. We will further develop proprioception, kinesthetic awareness, eye-hand and eye-foot coordination. We will be focusing on injury prevention, flexibility, and overall power of the athletes trained under the direction of the strength and conditioning department. This will enable each athlete to have the skills and tools necessary to achieve success.

The Southern Conference, which began its 91st season of intercollegiate competition in 2011, is a national leader in emphasizing the development of the student-athlete and in helping to build lifelong leaders and role models.

The Southern Conference has been on the forefront of innovation and originality in developing creative solutions to address issues facing intercollegiate athletics. From establishing the first conference basketball tournament (1921), tackling the issue of freshmen eligibility (1922), developing women's championships (1984), to becoming the first conference to install the three-point goal in basketball (1980), the Southern Conference has been a pioneer.

The Southern Conference is the nation's fifth-oldest NCAA Division I collegiate athletic association. Only the Big Ten (1896), the Missouri Valley (1907), the Pacific 10 (1915) and the Southwestern Athletic (1920) conferences are older in terms of origination.

Academic excellence has been a major part of the Southern Conference's tradition. Hundreds of Southern Conference student-athletes have been recognized on Capital One Academic All-America and all-district teams. A total of 19 Rhodes Scholarship winners have been selected from conference institutions.

The Conference currently consists of 12 members in five states throughout the Southeast and sponsors 19 varsity sports and championships that produce participants for NCAA Division I Championships.

The Southern Conference offices are located in the historic Beaumont Mill in Spartanburg, S.C. A textile mill that was in operation from 1880 until 1999, Beaumont Mill was renovated in 2004 and offers the league meeting areas and offices as well as a library for storage of historical documents.

MEMBERSHIP HISTORY

On Feb. 25, 1921, representatives from 14 of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association's (SIAA) 30 members met at Atlanta's Piedmont Hotel to establish the Southern Intercollegiate Conference. On hand at the inaugural meeting were officials from Alabama, Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn), Clemson, Georgia, Georgia School of Technology (Georgia Tech), Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi A&M (Mississippi State), North Carolina, North Carolina State, Tennessee, Virginia, Virginia Polytechnic Institute (Virginia Tech) and Washington & Lee.

Dr. S.V. Sanford of Georgia was chosen as acting chairman and N.W. Dougherty of Tennessee was named secretary. The decision to form a new athletic conference was motivated by the desire to have a workable number of conference games for each league member. With 30 schools in the SIAA by the early 1920s, it was impossible to play every school at least once during the regular season and many schools went several years between playing some conference members. In addition, in 1920, the SIAA voted down proposed rules that an athlete must be in a college a year before playing on its teams and refused to abolish a rule permitting athletes to play summer baseball for money.

Play began in the fall of 1921 and a year later, six more schools joined the fledgling league including Tulane (which had attended the inaugural meeting but had elected not to join), Florida, Louisiana (LSU), Mississippi, South Carolina and Vanderbilt. VMI joined in 1925 and Duke was added in 1929.

By the 1930s, membership in the Southern Conference had reached 23 schools. C.P. "Sally" Miles of Virginia Tech, president of the Southern Conference, called the annual league meeting to order on Dec. 9, 1932 at the Farragut Hotel in Knoxville, Tenn. Georgia's Dr. Sanford announced that 13 institutions west and south of the Appalachian Mountains were reorganizing as the Southeastern Conference. Members of the new league included Alabama, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Florida, Georgia, Georgia School of Technology, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Mississippi A&M, University of the South, Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt.

According to the minutes of the meeting, Dr. Sanford stated that the division was made along geographical lines. Florida's Dr. J.J. Tigert, acting as spokesman for the withdrawing group, regretted the move but believed it was necessary as the Southern Conference had grown too large. The resignations were accepted and the withdrawing schools formed the new league which began play in 1932.

The Southern Conference continued with membership of 10

The second major shift occurred some 20 years later. By 1952, the Southern Conference included 17 colleges and universities. Another split occurred when seven schools including Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest departed to form the Atlantic Coast Conference which began play in 1953. The revamped Southern Conference included members The Citadel, Davidson, Furman, George Washington, Richmond, VMI, Virginia Tech, Washington & Lee, West Virginia and William & Mary.

Today, the league continues to thrive with a membership that includes 12 institutions and a footprint that spans five states: Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama and Georgia. Current league members are Appalachian State, College of Charleston, The Citadel, Davidson, Elon, Furman, Georgia Southern, UNC Greensboro, Samford, Chattanooga, Western Carolina and Wofford.

CHAMPIONSHIP HISTORY

The first Southern Conference Championship was the league basketball tournament held in Atlanta in 1922. The Southern Conference Tournament remains the oldest of its kind in college basketball.

The Southern Conference declares champions in 10 men's sports - football, soccer, cross country, basketball, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, wrestling, baseball, tennis and golf - and nine women's sports - soccer, volleyball, cross country, basketball, indoor track and field, outdoor track & field, tennis, golf and softball.

FOOTBALL

The Southern Conference has excelled as the premier Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) conference. Southern Conference member Appalachian State won three consecutive FCS titles from 2005-07, becoming the first team to do so. The league boasts more than 250 players who have garnered All-America recognition and numerous national player or coach of the year awards. The conference has had at least one team in the Top 10 of the final FCS poll for 25 consecutive years with at least two teams finishing in the Top 20 in every season since 1982.

The conference has placed multiple representatives in the FCS Playoffs in 24-of-28 seasons, with 16 Championship Game appearances and eight national titles. The Southern Conference has had at least one team reach the semifinals in 11 of the last 13 years and in 17 of the last 20 seasons.

Wofford won the 2003, 2007 and 2010 SoCon Football Championships.

Wofford won the 2009 Men's Soccer Regular Season and Tournament Championships.

The City's origins predate the Revolutionary War. Spartanburg was named for a unit of American Revolution forces called the "Spartan Rifles" who helped defeat the British at the Battle of Cowpens in 1781, under the leadership of General Daniel Morgan.

The town of Spartanburg was incorporated in 1831 and later as a city in 1880 by the 13 Original States and Tennessee. During this time Spartanburg was booming due in large part to the rapidly expanding textile industry.

In the 1870s, Spartanburg became a railroad "hub city," with mainline railroads extending from Magnolia Street depot in all directions, taking passengers and freight to Charleston, Augusta, Atlanta, Asheville, Charlotte and points beyond. As many as 90 trains per day could be seen and heard operating in Spartanburg during the golden age of the American railroad, 1900-20.

During the 1920s, Spartanburg built South Carolina's first municipal airport and claimed the state's first commercial radio station (WSPA). Its leadership in the state was reflected by the election of several residents as governor.

Thousands of U.S. soldiers bound for overseas service in World Wars I and II trained at camps in Spartanburg. The post headquarters for Camp Wadsworth (1917-19) was located at the present site of WestGate Mall, and the Camp Croft (1940-45) was located south of the city. Much of that military reservation has become Croft

State Park.

After World War II, Spartanburg made a concerted effort to promote its location at the junction of Interstates 85 and 26 to international business. One of the greatest successes of this campaign was the development of the BMW manufacturing center near the Greenville-Spartanburg Airport.

Spartanburg's downtown, which always has been anchored by the campuses of Wofford and Converse Colleges, has been undergoing a major revival since the mid-1990s. In addition to the corporate headquarters for Denny's, Advance America, QS-1 and several other companies, the city has acquired a magnificent public library, the Marriott Hotel at Renaissance Park and most recently, the Chapman Arts Center and the USC Upstate George Dean Johnson School of Business. The area surrounding Morgan Square gradually is redeveloping with a variety of interesting restaurants and urban apartment-style housing.

Throughout the 20th century, textile manufacturing companies formed the backbone of the Spartanburg economy. The most significant of these companies still in operation is internationally respected Milliken & Company.

Blessed by geography and climate as well as by energetic and well-educated citizenry, Spartanburg is emerging as one of the centers of a 21st century metropolis that extends along the South Carolina portion of the I-85 corridor.
